

Get covered with CredentialSmart™

Verisys' CredentialSmart™ suite offers hospitals and health systems a one-stop solution for provider applications, credentialing, and enrollment.

Protecting your organization from changes to provider exclusions, sanctions, and debarments poses a challenge. Combining that protection with an easy-to-use SaaS-based platform for credentialing and enrollment ups the ante. And getting 99% accuracy on results might seem impossible. You can have all of the above with Verisys' CredentialSmart™. It's a suite of solutions that provide the best results in the industry. Think of it as your four-step process to overcome provider-data risk:

ApplySmart™

The application management and workflow portal reduces the time needed to collect complete applications from your providers from days to minutes. Changing system default documentation and forms to meet your unique requirements is a snap, all while meeting standards set by NCQA and URAC. ApplySmart acts as your single data source to quickly enroll and recredential providers.

CredSmart™

The application management and workflow portal reduces the time needed to collect complete applications from your providers from days to minutes. Changing system default documentation and forms to meet your unique requirements is a snap, all while meeting standards set by NCQA and URAC. ApplySmart acts as your single data source to quickly enroll and recredential providers.

PrivilegeXchange™

There's no need for phone calls, email, or adding to logs with privileging. Verisys' web-based system automates verifications, including customizable letters. You can print or save letters to demonstrate compliance.

EnrollSmart™

A single set of provider data to populate the enrollment method – either paper or portal – for hospitals and health plans.

“We have been using CredentialSmart since 2011. The solution provides ease of use and everything you need for primary source verifications directly through its interface. We have saved many hours in turnaround time for our initial provider credentialing and reappointments.”

— Senior Director of Medical Staff Services at Doylestown Hospital in Doylestown, Penn.

From Hassle to Handled

Still not sure about switching to CredentialSmart? Then count the ways things can - and do - go wrong with the typical process at hospitals and health systems:

1. Physicians receive paper applications. Or they get lost.
2. Manual data entry introduces the high probability of application errors.
3. Physicians and your credentialing team undergo a tedious back-and-forth process.
4. Your team does primary source verification. Of multiple data sources. With no electronic updates or notifications.
5. No automated process for updates and recredentialing exists.
6. Continuous monitoring of exclusions, sanctions, and debarments is not an option.

With the CredentialSmart solutions these problems vanish. Instead of paper applications, physicians submit applications through the ApplySmart portal, with much of their data pre-populated. Applications won't proceed without the inclusion of proper - and accurate - documentation either online or by fax. Electronic communication lessens the tedium of the process for all parties. ApplySmart also manages the enrollment process with health plans, hospitals, and enrollment entities.

Then CredSmart guides your team through the best practices of primary source verification. Examples: 120 days for attestation but a five-year look back of work history for initial credentialing. The other steps in the process - consent and release form, office information, Medicare and Medicaid numbers, professional liability coverages, and more - are easy for users to follow and managers to track. Finally, CredSmart handles updates, recredentialing, and monitoring to keep your provider network compliant.
